Their Christmas Is Merry, Thanks to You!

By MARGARET MATTOX
(Director News-Journal-Salvation Army "Brighten-a-Christmas")

It's Christmas tonight in the homes of Mansfield.

Eyes are bright with expectation in wealthy residences and modest dwellings. And thanks to the unprecedented generosity of hundreds of News-Journal readers, hearts beat high, too, in many a humble house where there would have been no dreams of Santa Claus, no toys, and no delicious feast tomorrow if you had not resolved to "Brighten-a-Christmas."

Nearly a hundred Mansfield families are going to have a truly merry Christmas because so many people believe that "It Is More Blessed to Give Than to Receive."

During the past two weeks many letters have been received at the "Brighten-a-Christmas" office containing money and checks, in amounts ranging from one dollar to twenty-five dollars. Many of the letters have been signed merely "A Friend," others have included their names but asked that they not be identified to the recipient. The gifts have been designated for the children, for aged, and for the needy, in other words the donors were sharing with those less fortunate on this Christmas, 1948.

Sunday school groups, individuals and social organizations have "adopted" families, and are providing them with food, toys for the children, clothing, and in many instances, with gifts of cash with which to "Brighten-a-Christmas."

Small groups of young people will visit a number of homes where aged and invalids live tonight and sing Christmas carols for them, and wish them a "Merry Christmas."

A Mansfield couple, for whom this year's Christmas will be bleak because of an impending brain operation for the husband, will find a bit of joy in opening a Christmas card containing a check from a Mansfield industrialist.

Five young boys, and two young sisters, who have never before owned bicycles, know the pleasure of having one all their own, thanks to the kind offers of News-Journal readers who donated the bicycles to the "Brighten-a-Christmas" project.

Many youngsters will be opening gaily-wrapped gift packages tomorrow morning and find new sweaters, mittens, and other items of clothing, all purchased with money donated to the fund. There will be toys, ranging from pull-toys for the toddlers to sleds for the older children, also purchased with money in the "Brighten-a-Christmas" fund.

Thursday afternoon and all day today baskets piled high with groceries and fruits, and topped with chickens, have been delivered to homes in many sections of Mansfield, food that will fill the tables in homes where a gala Christmas dinner would have been impossible if so many people had not responded to the appeal to "Brighten-a-Christmas."

WEATHER
Snow, continued cold tonight; cold, possible snow Saturday.

Holiday Travelers Jam Trains, Planes, Buses

Records Expected To Topple

Carriers Add Extra Sections

Thousands of Mansfielders are welcoming members of their families home today and getting ready to spend Christmas with all the traditional festivities.

Others who work in Mansfield and have families in other cities are crowding buses, trains, and planes today in the homeward trek for the big holiday of the year.

With many Mansfield plants and offices closing at noon today, transportation officials said holiday travel will reach its peak this afternoon and tonight. Travel is expected to be heavy again Sunday night and early Monday when Mansfielders return from out-of-town visits.

Travel on buses is expected to set an all-time record this year.

Travel out of Mansfield by bus this week has already exceeded travel at the same time last year. A bus company official said that he attributed the early travel this year to the large number of servicemen who have received holiday furloughs and are going home for Christmas. Every available bus is being used. This week as many as seven sections were used on the Pittsburgh - Chicago express.

Travel by train and air also is expected to be heavy. Railroad officials said extra sections are being added to some trains.

AIR TRAVEL UP

Travel by air is exceeding all records. Officials at the Mansfield airport said all flights have been extremely heavy and the number of passengers is expected to increase today and tonight.

Tomorrow will be a day of rest for many Mansfielders. Weary store clerks will relax after working long hours trying to please last-minute Christmas shoppers.

Postal employes will be breathing a sigh of relief after a record mailing season. In the 11-day period ending last night, the post office had a total of more than a million and a half cancellations and had delivered locally an estimated 40,425 parcel post packages.

The number of stamps sold, value of stamps sold, and total receipts for the 11-day period all exceeded figures for the same period last year.

Burmese Archers Initiate Revolt

RANGOON, BURMA —(AP)— The English newspaper Nation said today headhunters from the state of Was, armed with bows and arrows, have revolted against the Burmese government. Was lies on Burma's east border near Yunnan province of China.

The newspaper said Burmese troops have been sent to meet the rebels, who are threatening Burmese military police outposts.

It's Tradition:
No Paper Christmas

The News-Journal will not be published Saturday, Christmas day, permitting employes to spend the holiday with their families. Christmas is the only day in the year the News-Journal is not published. The church news, which usually appears on Saturday, is included in today's issue.

Wife Parks Celebrating Mate For 5c

LYNN, Mass.—(INS)—A few fortunate Lynn shoppers who watched the whole thing chuckled today over this "Christmas tableau."

A harried housewife, trying to get her last-minute shopping done, was being hampered by a husband who obviously had been celebrating a wee too much.

She marched said husband to a parking meter, opened his coat, buttoned him firmly around the stanchion, dropped in a nickel, and went off about her business.

A little later she came back, collected her uncomplaining spouse and led him away—presumably to home, hearth, and bed.

Ambassador To Moscow Quits Post

General Smith Resigns Position

WASHINGTON—(INS)—President Truman has before him today the resignation of Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, United States ambassador to Russia, who leaves Moscow Sunday.

Highly reliable sources indicated, however, that the chief executive apparently is desirous of continuing Smith as the U. S. representative in the Russian capital and that he probably will ask the ambassador to change his mind.

State department spokesman Michael McDermott, meanwhile, confirmed that Smith will leave Moscow on Dec. 26. McDermott said:

"Gen. Smith is coming home on leave, but I don't know whether he is staying."

From other sources it was learned that the ambassador has sent his resignation directly to Mr. Truman, who is spending the holiday season at Independence, Mo.

McDermott said that the department could not at this time confirm or deny the reports that Smith has turned in his resignation after two and one-half years in one of the toughest diplomatic jobs this country has to offer.

Reports from the Russian capital that the embassy attaches have given Smith a "farewell party" served to point up stories circulating in official circles that the general himself desires to be relieved of his present duties.

Daniels' Fate Up to Herbert

Recommendations of the State Pardon and Parole commission that came out of a clemency hearing Tuesday for Robert Murl Daniels, have been submitted to Gov. Thomas J. Herbert. He said, however, his decision will not be announced until next week.

The governor has the power to stay the execution for further investigation. As a rule, he follows the commission's recommendations. Daniels' parents and a sister attended Tuesday's clemency hearing.

Daniels is under sentence to die in the Ohio penitentiary's electric chair on Jan. 3, for the murders of John E. Niebel, reformatory farm superintendent, his wife and daughter.

Navy Rushes To Tientsin

Chinese Ships Speed Defense

NANKING — (UP) — Chinese naval units rushed today to the defense of besieged Tientsin, north China's biggest city, where normal activities have been brought almost to a standstill by the possibility of a full-scale communist attack.

The warships were reported en route to the Huai river port of Tangku, 38 miles from Tientsin, where seaborne nationalist supplies are fed to the Tientsin garrison of some 70,000 troops and 20,000 disorganized stragglers from the routed Manchurian army.

The lull on the battle fronts continued. There were more reports on "peace feelers" and rumors that the lull stemmed in part from the fact that the communists were studying the diplomatic situation.

But the naval units were reported to be cleaning out communist machine gun and sniper nests on both banks of the Huai as they sailed upstream.

REPORT SCHEDULED

WASHINGTON — (UP) — A four-nation fact-finding commission was scheduled to report today on its investigation of the uprising in Costa Rica.

Midnight Rites Scheduled

Churches Greet Yule With Sermon, Song

By NITA BRANSON, N-J Church Editor

Mansfield churches will celebrate the vigil of Christmas and greet the holy day with Yuletide services tonight and tomorrow morning.

Thousands of worshippers will pay tribute to the Christ Child at candlelight rites and masses. Several Protestant churches will hold services shortly before midnight. St. Peter's Catholic church will have a midnight mass.

Services will include sermons on the Christmas theme by the pastors and Christmas music by the choirs.

Chimes at the First Lutheran church will be played for 15 minutes, beginning at 11 p. m. At quarter past the hour, Mrs. Clayson Bell, organist, will start a program of Christmas music, blending into the notes of the first hymn, shortly after 11:30 p. m.

Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell has prepared a Christmas eve sermon on the subject, "Two Mangers." All choirs of the church will join in presenting a program with A. LeMoine Derr directing.

Services at the St. Luke's Lutheran church will start at 10:45 p. m. Dr. Herbert S. Garnes will bring a Christmas message and both the junior and the senior choirs will sing under the direction of Miss Florence MacDonald.

The junior choir will sing, "Now the Holy Child Is Born," a Normandy folk song, and both choirs will join in singing "The Dawn of Christmas," by Mueller.

TALKS AT 11 P. M.

Rev. J. C. Melchert will preach at the Christmas eve service at the St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church at 11 p. m. on the subject, "The Missed Christmas."

The choir will sing, "The Shepherd's Vision," by Mary Rosa, with J. C. Klinger directing. Mrs. Helen Heston, organist, will play Dickinson's "Shepherd's Christmas Song."

There will be midnight mass at the St. Peter's Catholic church tonight. Masses will be said at different hours during Christmas morning. High masses

'Sonny, You've Come Home'

Mother Joins Her Hero Son, at Last

NEW YORK—(UP)—No tears were in Mrs. Nettie Le Voff's eyes as she entered the funeral parlor. The 57-year-old mother had waited too long for that.

Instead, she only sighed when she saw the flag-draped coffin of her 19-year-old war hero son Pvt. Seymour Le Voff.

"Sonny," she murmured softly, "you've come home."

Then she slumped to the floor —dead of a heart attack.

"It was the waiting that killed her," her 56-year-old husband, Morris, explained today. "The trouble was the army gave her too long to think about it."

LeVoff said he wished the army could be made to realize how hard it was on parents waiting for bodies of their soldier sons to be brought back.

Their son had been killed in the invasion of Eniwetok atoll in the Pacific in February, 1944, he said.

"She had a heart attack when we first got the news Seymour had been killed," Le Voff recalled. "She was in bed six months. After that she spent all her time waiting for the body to be brought back.

"Finally we got a notification from the army about three-and-a-half weeks ago. They said we could expect to receive the body within from four days to five weeks. Four days to five weeks, can you imagine that?

"The strain got to working on her mind. She kept expecting word every day. And it was only last Monday that we got final word the body was to be delivered to the funeral parlor."

"She was very quiet on the way to the chapel," Le Voff said.

"There weren't any tears—she had used them all up in waiting. But when she saw the coffin, it was too much for her.

LeVoff postponed the funeral of the son so that Mrs. Le Voff could be buried with him on Christmas eve.

End Blitz, U. N. Tells Holland

Cease-Fire - Order Issued

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The United States proposed today that Britain, France, Russia and this country resume negotiations for an Austrian peace treaty about Feb. 7 in London.

PARIS — (INS) — The security council today ordered all hostilities in Indonesia halted. The action, bringing peace to strife-torn Java and Sumatra, climaxed bitter Christmas-eve debate.

It rejected a Soviet move which would have branded the Netherlands as the "aggressor" in the fighting.

The action came after bitter Christmas-eve debate which offered several surprises. The first was the action of Britain, which has its own colonial troubles in southeast Asia, in supporting the U. S. strong resolution.

The second big surprise was China's reversal on the issue. Yesterday, China, in an unexpected move, announced support of the U. S. program. Today, it made an about face and abstained.

Britain condemned the Dutch attack on the Indonesian republic and called for Security council orders ending hostilities.

British Delegate M. E. Denning told the council the Dutch had opened warfare which inflamed world opinion before exhausting all possibilities of negotiating a settlement.

But France, the third major colonial power in southeast Asia, supported the Netherlands stand.

Russia, meanwhile, demanded a share in policing Indonesia, and called for even stronger action against the Dutch than is embodied in the American resolution.

'Corpse' Stirs As Patrolman Reaches Scene

At 3:20 a. m. today the phone rang in the police department. "There's a man slumped over the wheel of a truck down here," Fred Baughman, night clerk at the Phoenix hotel, reported. Patrolman William Mitchell wheeled the cruiser out and rushed to the scene.

Standing in the middle of the street, facing the Erie crossing on North Main was the truck, with the supposed "body" doubled over the wheel.

Ptl. Mitchell approached. The "body" stirred, and blinked its sleepy eyes at Mitchell.

He had stopped for a train to pass, the trucker explained, and must have fallen asleep. Refreshed by a little nap, the driver started up the motor and drove on.

Galveston Police Get Holiday Spirit

GALVESTON, TEX., —(AP)— Police left special Christmas tickets on more than 100 cars overparked in Galveston today.

They read: "Season greetings. The patrolman on this beat notes that you violated the parking meter ordinance. Do not worry about it. We wish you a merry Christmas and a happy New Year."

Big Snow Blanket Forecast

The weatherman must have teamed up with Santa Claus.

Snow—lots of it—is on the holiday menu.

The forecaster said there may be a six-inch blanket in central and southern Ohio, but it will be a little lighter in this section.

The snow is due to start falling tonight and continue through most of tomorrow, the weatherman said.

Already snow is falling over a wide area from the central Rocky mountain region, where the snow is 16 inches deep to Iowa, Missouri, Illinois and Indiana.

There was sleet and snow in Kansas and Missouri, where icy roads caused many traffic accidents. Four deaths in Kansas and one in Missouri resulted from the weather conditions.

In the east, snow was expected tonight. The weatherman said as much as five inches of snow would fall in Pennsylvania starting at sundown today and extending into Christmas day.

The snowfall reached 16 inches at Richfield, Utah. Winds were up to 55 miles an hour in parts of the state, causing extensive damage.

Cold also hit parts of the country. Salmon, Idaho, had 26 below zero yesterday. In Montana, it reached 38 below zero.

A gleaming blanket of snow today assured President Truman of a real old-fashioned white Christmas at his family home in Independence, Mo.

Mr. Truman was preparing to send Christmas greetings to the nation and the world by radio at 4:16 this afternoon after he touches a button which will light up the Yule tree in front of the White House at Washington.

New Attack Hits Israel

TEL AVIV—(INS)—Air, land, and sea warfare flared in the Holy Land today, on the eve of the birthday of the Prince of Peace.

Israeli and Egyptian troops clashed in the rain-swept Negev desert area of southern Palestine in what may be decisive battles.

Initially, the Jewish fighters claimed the upper hand. An Israeli spokesman said troops closed in on a strong Egyptian garrison trapped at Faluja, on the northern edge of the Negev, and attacked at scattered points to the south.

Main target of the Israeli appeared to be the Egyptian stronghold of Nirim, 12 miles southwest of Gaza. An all-out attack on the town threatened to cut off Egyptian troops to the north, and isolate Gaza itself.

Hearing Date Set By NLRB

CANTON, — (AP) — Charges brought against the Hoover company by 10 officials and former officials of the CIO Electrical Workers union will be heard here Jan. 5 by the National Labor Relations board.

The union was ousted this summer as bargaining agent for the company's production and maintenance workers.

Complaints lodged against Hoover by the 10 charge they were fired for directing union activities during a two-month strike. The workers are asking that they be returned to their old jobs and given back pay to Aug. 2.

South End Grocery Held Up

Bandit Flees In 'Tan' Car

A tall, well-dressed "customer" who produced an automatic pistol instead of a wallet at a check-out counter in Spitaleri's South Boulevards market last night, robbed the proprietor, Joseph Spitaleri, of $1,288.

The daring robbery was staged in the presence of an unidentified woman customer at 7:40 p. m. a few minutes before closing time.

Spitaleri told police the man entered the market at 7:38 p. m. looked around the store, and selected a couple items from the self-serve counters. As the man approached the check-out desk to pay for the purchases, he reached into his overcoat pocket produced an automatic and demanded the money in the cash register.

The proprietor said he handed over the money in that cash register and also the day's receipts from a register at a second check-out booth at the bandit's demand.

Police said the woman customer told them the man left, entered a car in front of the market and headed south on Lexington avenue.

A state-wide alarm to all highway patrol stations and law enforcement officials was broadcast by Mansfield police.

TALKED TO BANDIT

Today, Charles Spitaleri, 23-year-old son of the proprietor of the market, said he talked to the bandit in the market.

"I was in the back room and when I saw him looking around, I thought maybe he couldn't find something," the youth said. "I asked him if I could help him, but he answered that he couldn't make up his mind, so I returned to the back of the store.

"He was about 30, weighed about 210 pounds, had a ruddy complexion and was very well dressed. Some fellow around here at the time said he was driving a light tan car."

Possibility that the "light tan car" might have borne a Mansfield license was advanced by Don Cram, News-Journal advertising man and a resident of South Boulevards who said he saw a light car parked in front of the Boulevard's council house a few minutes after 7 p. m. The council house, he said, is about three blocks from the market.

SEES AUTO

Cram, a cub scout leader, said he drove up to the council hall for a Scout meeting when he noticed the car.

"The car was dark" Cram said. "I thought maybe the car belonged to one of the Scouts so I walked up and started to open the door.

"I hadn't said a word when a man said: 'Ok, Ok', started the car and drove on. I followed the car for a little distance and saw there were two in the auto, one a girl, I believe.

"The car was a convertible and had a "WB" license." Cram said he was unable to distinguish features on the man since the car was without lights.

Living Cost Again Drops

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Government figures today disclosed a continued decline in living costs in November.

The index of the Bureau of Labor statistics for mid-November was down 3/10th of one per cent from a month earlier. The fall was due to a drop in food prices for the fourth consecutive month.

The first decline from a steady 1948 living cost climb came in mid-October. So the latest figures recorded the second straight monthly decrease in cost of living. The index measures the retail prices of goods and services purchased by moderate-income families in large cities. Food is the major item in the index.

Food prices have continued to go down slightly since mid-November. That points to a third decline in the living cost index when figures for mid-December become available a month from now.

Demonstrates, But Too Well

PORTSMOUTH —(INS)— Mrs. Flora Vaughn, 49, mother of nine, faced the possibility today of losing her right foot because of the combination of a proud papa and the proverbial "unloaded" shotgun.

Two of the Vaughn children were complaining that they had seen prowlers at night around their Pond Creek home.

Papa Calvin, 56, a widely known square dance fiddler, promptly grabbed his shotgun and demonstrated how he would handle any prowlers.

Ka-wham!

Today, Mrs. Vaughn is in the Portsmouth General hospital with 94 slugs in her foot.

DONATE PENNIES

SANDUSKY — (AP) — Some 800 employes of the Philco Radio and Television corporation each donated a penny to be put in the cornerstone of the concern's new $1,000,000 television plant here.

Seek to Organize Atomic Workers

DAYTON — (INS) — Henry Adkinson, an international representative of the CIO United Gas, and Chemical Workers union said that his union is engaged in trying to organize atomic energy plant workers in the Dayton area.

Three hundred production and maintenance employes at three Monsanto Chemical company plant working for the Atomic Energy commission are the targets of the unionization attempt.

Restraining Suit

Bleak Christmas Faces Eleven Fliers Marooned on Icecap

See Bevin Resigning

LONDON—(INS)—British parliamentary circles speculated today that Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin will resign his post when negotiations for a North Atlantic defense pact are ended.

Named as his likeliest successor is Attorney General Sir Hartley Shawcross.

The speculation grew as it became increasingly apparent that Bevin's goal of negotiating peace treaties on Austria and Germany probably will not be reached during the life of the present labor government which will be in office no longer than 1951.

An additional push was given to the rumors surrounding Bevin's intentions when Pertinax, a writer for the Paris France Soir, said that Bevin will retire after putting Anglo-French relations on a firmer footing.

will be said at 8 and again at 11 a. m., with low masses at 9:30 a. m. Solemn Benediction will be given at 7:30 p. m. Christmas day.

The men's and boys' choirs will sing Christmas music both at the midnight service today and again at the 11 a. m. high mass tomorrow. Raymond Baum, organist, will direct the choirs.

An organ recital by Mrs. Fred H. Cahall at 10:45 p m will precede the 11 p m service at the St Luke's Lutheran church. Mrs. Cahall will play "Silent Night, Holy Night" with the chimes, and conclude with three other Christmas numbers, ending with Mueller's "In Bethlehem Town." As a postlude Mrs. Cahall will play "March of the Magi," by Harker.

The processional hymn, "Come Hither, Ye Faithful" will be sung by the vested junior and senior choirs "Now the Holy Child Is Born," a Normandy folk song, will be presented by the junior choir and both choirs will sing "The Dawn of Christmas."

Dr. Herbert S. Garnes will preach on the theme, "The Proclamation of Christ's Birth."

CANDLELIGHT RITES

A candlelight service will be presented at the St. Matthew's Lutheran church beginning at 10:30 a. m. Junior and senior choirs will march in the processional, singing "Adeste Fidelis."

Musical numbers will include: "Lo How a Rose 'Tis Blooming," "Angels, We Have Heard on High" and "Coventry Night" by the senior choir, "O Holy Night" by both choirs and "Away In a Manger" by the junior choir alone.

Dr. Charles F. Sheriff, pastor, will preach on the theme, "The Meaning and Spirt of Christmas."

Christmas eve services at the St. Mark's Lutheran church will open at 10:45 p. m. Familiar Christmas carols will be sung by the congregation and choir and Rev. C. A. Portz will speak briefly.

A "watchnight" service is to be held at Grace Brethren church. It will open with a fellowship supper at 7 p. m. and continue through several hours of recreation and informal fellowship. The service will close with devotionals and special music. Rev. Bernard Schneider, pastor, will preside and bring a brief message.

SING CAROLS

Caroling at the homes of Greek residents of the city will start at 6 p. m. today by members of the Greek Orthodox church, led by Rev James Gougoutas, teacher of the Greek school.

Christmas will be marked at the Grace Episcopal church by two celebrations of Holy Communion.

The first will be held at 11:30 p. m. today in connection with the annual candlelight service which will highlight a full Choral Eucharist with all the traditional Christmas hymns and carols sung by the choir. The boys' choir for this occasion will be augmented by women choir members.

The second celebration will be held in the chapel tomorrow at 10:30 a. m.

Life Begins At 83 For Bridegroom

MINNEAPOLIS — (AP) — An 83-year-old veterinarian was honeymooning here today with the 33-year-old bride he married Wednesday in a secret ceremony at Waukesha, Wis., their home.

He is Dr. David Roberts, who has been wed three times previously. It was the second trip to the altar for Mrs. Elizabeth Elfers Walker, who was named as the "other woman" when the third Mrs. Roberts won her divorce a year ago.

"Marriage is beautiful," commented Dr. Roberts. "I haven't been soured by my previous marital troubles and life is just beginning for me again at 83."

NEW PLANT CITED

CHARDON—(AP)—The Johnson Rubber company, today said a new plant for a subsidiary corporation will be constructed on a four-acre tract of land in Bainbridge township.

Carrier Steams To Aid Rescue

Storms Block All Attempts

NORFOLK, Va.—(INS)—The aircraft carrier Saipan prepared today to steam to the rescue of 11 airmen apparently doomed to spend Christmas on a gale-swept, 7,700-foot Greenland icecap.

The carriers will carry helicopters and specially-trained naval and marine crews who gave up their Christmas leaves to brave the roaring winds sweeping down over icy Greenland in further rescue efforts.

The ship is scheduled to leave Norfolk Christmas eve, arriving at Greenland about New Year's day.

The Air Force, which has been unsuccessful in a number of rescue efforts, has abandoned further attempts until the sub-zero winds abate.

This means that unless there is an unexpected break in weather conditions, the 11 marooned men will spend Christmas in their small ice houses, equipped with camp-style heaters.

It'll be a bleak Christmas for them, but the Air Force plans to drop turkey dinners to the fliers.

Meanwhile, a variety of planes and gliders are standing by at the U. S. air base at Narsarssuak, Greenland, and at Goose Bay, Labrador, to make rescue attempts as soon as weather conditions permit.

Air Force officials emphasized that no opportunity will go begging.

It was recalled, however, that two of the rescue efforts thus far not only resulted in failure to take off the original seven-man C-47 crew which skidded to the flat icecap when they ran out of gas, but added four men to the number marooned.

Seven of the marooned flyers have been on the icecap for two weeks, and the four others now have spent ten days with them.

Two of the latter group crash-landed on the ice during a rescue attempt, and the final two landed with a glider that it has not been possible to bring off the ice.

No fears are felt as to the safety of the men so long as they remain in their ice-house shelters. It was pointed out that ample provisions have been dropped to them, as well as plenty of warm clothing.

SERVICES ARRANGED

BUCYRUS. — Services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Monday at the Munz funeral home here for Soren Johansen, 60, who died Thursday in City hospital here. Rev. J. D. Mumford of Wadsworth Lutheran church will officiate and burial will be in Oakwood cemetery here. Friends may call Sunday afternoon and evening at the funeral home.

IS THERE A SANTA CLAUS?

We take pleasure in answering at once and thus prominently the communication below, expressing at the same time our great gratification that its faithful author is numbered among the friends of THE SUN:

"DEAR EDITOR—I am 8 years old.
"Some of my little friends say there is no SANTA CLAUS.
"Papa says 'If you see it in THE SUN it's so.'
"Please tell me the truth, is there a SANTA CLAUS?
"VIRGINIA O'HANLON,
"115 West Ninety-fifth street."

VIRGINIA, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, VIRGINIA, whether they be men's or children's, are little. In this great universe of ours man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole of truth and knowledge.

Yes, VIRGINIA, there is a SANTA CLAUS. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! how dreary would be the world if there were no SANTA CLAUS! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

Not believe in SANTA CLAUS! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas eve to catch SANTA CLAUS, but even if they did not see SANTA CLAUS coming down what would that prove? Nobody sees SANTA CLAUS, but that is no sign that there is no SANTA CLAUS. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world.

You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernal beauty and glory beyond. Is it all real? Ah, VIRGINIA, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding.

No SANTA CLAUS! Thank God! he lives, and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, VIRGINIA, nay, ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood. —Francis P. Church

Hangings Ended All Top Trials

Class 'A' Jap Leaders Freed

TOKYO—(INS)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur's occupation headquarters revealed today that no more major war crimes suspects will be brought to trial in Japan.

The hangings of "Pearl Harbor Premier" Hideki Tojo and six other warlords were declared to have put an end to the allied job of liquidating those held chiefly responsible for Japan's violation of world peace.

This disclosure came with a Christmas eve announcement that 19 former "Class A" Japanese war crimes suspects, including several who were once high in Nippon's government, have been released.

Two other erstwhile "Class A" suspects now are being tried on a lower level—a general headquarters military commission, in contrast to the high eleven-nation tribunal that consigned Tojo and his six colleagues to the gallows.

Among the 19 former "Class A" suspects who have been freed of all charges were:

Genki Abe, one of Japan's wartime home ministers; Kisaburo Ando, also a former home minister; ex-foreign minister Masayuki Tani; former justice minister Michiyo Iwamura; former communications minister Ken Terashima;

Eiji Amau, wartime cabinet information chief; Kauo Aoki, one-time minister for "greater East Asia;" ex-minister of State Gumio Goto; ex-minister of state Nozusuke Kishi;

Adm. Sankichi Takahashi, erstwhile member of the supreme war council; Gen. Toshizo Nishio, commander in chief of the Japanese army in China from 1939 to 1941; Yoshihisa Kuzuu, once president of the notorious black dragon society; Koichiro Ishihara, formerly a powerful industrialist; and Yoshio Kodama, one time purchasing agent for the Japanese navy.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.
And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were afraid.
And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.
For unto you is born this day in the City a David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.
And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.
And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,
"Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

—Luke 2: 8-14

That Brightly Shining Star

ALL OF US like to think of Christmas as a gay time, a warmhearted time, a day devoted to the happiness of family and friends. Our gifts, really, are meant to be symbols of the friendliness, gratitude, and affection that are in our hearts the whole year round, although too often we find ourselves so busy or pre-occupied that we fail to express such sentiments during the day-in, day-out routine of living.

Of course, there are "duty" gifts—presents exchanged from habit, or social or business requirements—which mean little or nothing. But even these fail to tarnish the real spirit of Christmas.

THE JOY of the season seems somehow tied up with the evergreen boughs on the door or mantel and the resplendent tree in the corner. A big tree, with a score of lights and glittering ornaments, or a tiny artificial one, bought shyly at a department store counter, it becomes the rallying place at the Yuletide.

Here, shouts of children are gayest on Christmas morning. Here, an actual tear of hapiness is sometimes brushed away by an older person at sight of an unexpected remembrance. Here, memories are born that we treasure for many years. Not even the dinner table heaped with delicacies for feasting can compare in the joyous excitement with the sparkling Christmas tree.

And oh! the cries of dismay when a bulb burns out and the star on the topmost branch goes dark. For the tots it is real anguish. For father and mother it is just one more little chore to keep things right on this merriest day of all the year.

PERHAPS we need a star at the top of the tree of our thinking at more than just the Yuletide. There should be some gleaming, fragile beacon that we resolve to keep burning at all times. There should be a devotion to goodness, and rightness, and tolerance which we will keep alive even if, at the moment, it seems to require the one additional effort we just cannot make.

Most American lives, if you stop to think of it, are built on a foundation of moderate success. None of us has all he wants or, probably, all that he thinks he is entitled to. Yet the majority have enough to eat and wear with a little left over which we are willing to share with the less fortunate. This in itself is remarkable in a world where want is the rule rather than the exception.

Truly the Christmas season shows us by its exuberant spirit that in spite of our "success" we often let our lives grow boring and burdensome. We need that star atop the Christmas tree the whole year long—a shining image of the goodness of living which can wink out so easily and unexpectedly but which can be rekindled if we have the will.

'Success Story' That Isn't Fiction

AS GEORGE W. STEPHENS retires from the presidency of the Mansfield Tire & Rubber company to become chairman of the board of directors of that flourishing Mansfield industry, the thoughts of many Mansfielders will turn to the small beginning of this enterprise and the extent to which it has grown and prospered under the direction and inspiration of Mr. Stephens.

There is also recollection of his ardent interest and support of civic activities designed for community betterment, and his fine concept of employer-employe relations as evidenced by the co-operative attitude of workers in all departments of M. T. & R.

A point that seems worthy of making, for the benefit of younger readers, is that Mr. Stephens typifies what is sometimes referred to as "a self-made man," which means that he progressed from an inconspicuous beginning to a position of prominence and large responsibility in a highly competitive field.

Those acquainted with the fictional writing of Horatio Alger, jr., popular around a half century ago, will see a similarity in the early experiences of Mr. Stephens, including the customary "farm boy" background common to those who reached manhood around the turn of the century.

One of a family of eight children, George's early schooling was in Packwood, Ia., with completion of high school in Washburn, Ill. Then came school teaching for a term, with study of telegraphy on the side, preparatory to taking a job as station agent at Washburn. More study, including bookkeeping and business—always with a view to becoming prepared for advancement. Later came employment with a tire company, as assistant to the sales manager, leading up to association with the Mansfield Tire & Rubber company as general sales manager, with upward steps to the position of vice president and general manager—and 25 years ago to presidency of the company.

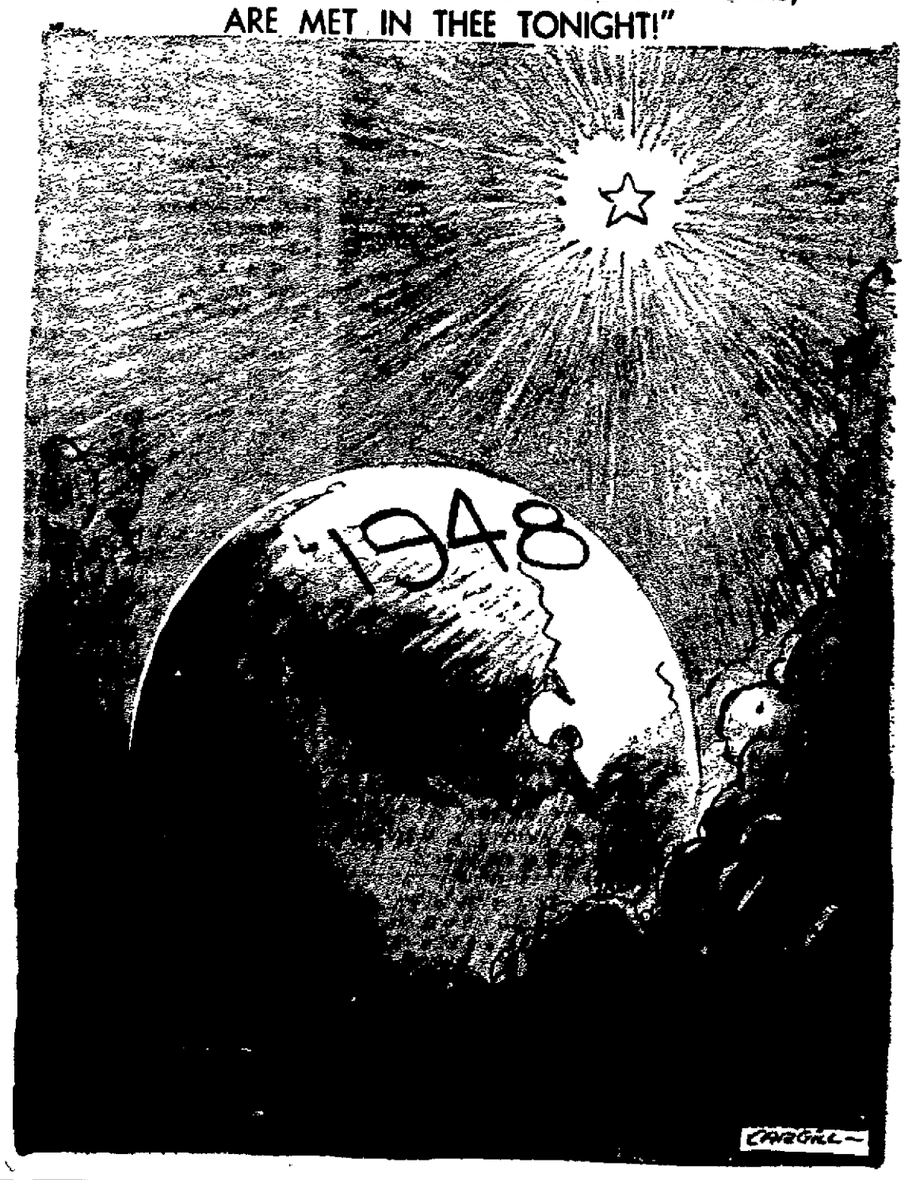
For any young person seeking a formula for success in a life work, observation in the case of Mr. Stephens indicates two essential traits: "Preparation to assume increasing responsibilities" and "Keeping everlastingly at it."

The confidence which Mr. Stephens reposes in Harry B. Soulen as his successor to the presidency of M. T. & R. is fully shared by those who know Mr. Soulen, whose qualifications for his new post have come through thirty years of broad experience.

A Maryland court has ruled that to call a person a "screwball" does not "connote opprobrium or reprehensibility"—which seems to mean that it is all right to call a screwball a screwball, if occasion seems to require.

A psychologist advises that if a child is breaking things, "give him something which is more fun to do"—without even suggesting anything that could be.

Drive carefully tonight, tomorrow and Sunday—don't take a chance on casting gloom over the Christmas holiday season.



Raymond Moley's Analysis

Maze of Bureaucracy Conceals Losses

EARLY previews of the Hoover report on reorganizing the government show the danger that superficial matters of interest to the public may obscure the real meat of the findings.

The public seems to be greatly interested in proposals to raise the salaries of the President and higher officers of the government. But the vastly more important findings in the Ferdinand Eberstadt report on national security will be forgotten unless great efforts are made to promote and popularize them.

It is really not very important whether the salaries of the high officers of the government are increased or not. The government receives in taxes a large part of what it pays out in big salaries.

The ability of the President and other high officials to acquire real maintenance by free transportation, medical care, yachts, aircraft and the like is much more important than salary.

Moreover, no person worth hiring is going to take or keep a cabinet job because of the pay. And the President is not suffering on his present salary.

But it is important to know that, because there is no adequate overall accounting and control of government business, huge amounts of property are lost in the maze of bureaucracy.

The Eberstadt report says that 85,000 tanks were produced during the war. Then, "with some difficulty" the committee learned from Army statistics that 25,000 of these were on hand at the end of the war. But astonishing as it may seem, only 16,000 of these could be accounted for by the Army. The Army "was unable to state what had become of the others."

* * *

Element of Humor.

ANOTHER item would be downright funny, if it did not carry such serious implications. The report relates that the budget estimates for 1950 show requests for the "modernization" of 103 more tanks of a certain kind than the Army possessed.

The report points out, further, that the committee was unable to compare with any reasonable accuracy the cost of defense items, because each of the armed services employs dissimilar administrative sructures and budgetary and accounting procedures.

Since that is true, how is Congress or the taxpayer to know whether national defense calls for the $30,000,000,000 the services say they need or the $32,000,000,000 which also is talked about or the $15,0000,0000,000 the President is trying to get or what?

The Eberstadt statement that military men have no "sense of cost consciousness" is a colossal understatement.

The fact is that in military matters, as in most of the other government activities, it is impossible to tell whether the amount asked for is an egregious bargaining bid or a true statement of need.

The reports which will emerge from time to time will lead up to a really big point. That is that until Congress provides itself with a real means of continuous investigation, accounting and auditing, little can be done to reform our government.

There was a flitting dream of this nearly 30 years ago, when the office of comptroller general was conceived. But that office, too, seems to be lost in the mazes of its own routine.

Assignment: America

If 'Cold War' Gets 'Hot'

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON — Viewed on paper, from a military point of view, Washington today would seem to be an amply protected city, even during these times of cold war tension.

But, since mere paper protection never gave pause to a potential enemy, it might be well to look deeper into the situation.

Four different armed service outfits of considerable strength and ability have a hand in guarding the nation's capital. They are:

Headquarters, military district of Washington;
Second army;
First Air Force;
Potomac river naval command.

The first and last units mentioned cover the same territory, which reaches somewhat out into Virginia and Maryland.

The other two spread haphazardly over several states, with differing boundaries, and covering areas which have been outlined with an eye toward unit expediency rather than overall liaison or unified action.

Headquarters are scattered, although all commands overlap in the vicinity around the capital. That's the general set-up.

In time of emergency, the military district of Washington (MDW) headquarters would be in command. Technically and practically, it is responsible for the protection of the capital.

Bossed by battle-tested, hard-hitting up-from-the-ranks of Major General Hobart R. Gay, the MDW boys take their responsibility seriously. You only have to be around them a little while to realize that they're sharply aware of the dangers to Washington should the cold war get hot.

But, apart from a surprising shortage of funds allotted their organization (in view of the critical nature of their assignment), they face a frightening number of handicaps in attempting adequately to protect the nation's capital against a sneak enemy attack.

* * *

Not Really "Unified."

THEY FACE problems of divided authority. For example, they are well aware that the air over and around Washington should be policed to a fare-you-well for full safety.

In these days of the atom bomb, it could be little short of suicidal to permit unauthorized civilian planes to continue breaking civil aeronautics administration regulations over the capital city almost daily.

It literally leaves the nation's civilian and military administrative heart completely vulnerable.

Yet they dare not attempt to chide the C. A. A. or take action themselves. Lacking the authority, they would bring down the wrath of countless congressmen and influential taxpayers on their heads if they attempted to throw their weight around.

Also, within their own armed service family, they face problems of inadequate liaison and lack of unity. Pursuing the aforementioned situation farther, even should they be assigned air-police duties over the district, they would have to depend upon the First Air Force to provide it.

As matters now stand, the MDW command does not directly contact the First Air Force on operational matters at all. A liaison of sorts is maintained through the headquarters of the Second Army—in Baltimore.

Despite unification, liaison among the three armed service branches still is largely only a top level business. Therefore, at the working level there remain four separate plans for the protection of Washington — Army, Navy, Air Force and MDW—and even if there is an overall defense plan in existence, liaison at the tactical level still is lacking.

And by the time a tactical problem is bucked up through channels, you could stage half a dozen Pearl Harbors — with periodic breaks for tea!

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Christmas Awakens Thoughts of Peace

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — This columnist is chiefly paid by editors for keeping an eye on Washington skulduggery, interpreting the wiles, whims and wherefores of national bigwigs, and cocking an ear at closed-door meetings where the real policies of the nation are so frequently decided.

Around Christmas time, however, I hope I may be excused if I stray from this assignment and express some thoughts on the all-important goal which the Man whose birthday we celebrate tomorrow set for us nearly 2,000 years ago, and toward which we have been struggling.

When I read the newspaper headlines I sometimes feel that we have taken several steps backward from that historic day when the Man came into the world who was to give His life for the cause of peace on earth, good will to men.

In addition to the stalemate in the United Nations, revolution in Latin America and our own huge military budget, even little Holland today seems to have taken a cue from the big aggressor nations. War or the threat of war is everywhere around us.

* * *

People Work at Peace.

HOWEVER, peace and democracy must build on a very broad base. And when you examine the base—in other words, the people—there is stirring in this country and in most parts of the world a fervent, crusading desire for peace.

It is a desire so strong that people get out and work at it.

They are not content to leave the fate of their country in the hands of governments. They are not content with the Marshall Plan alone—even though that is the greatest help-thy-neighbor plan ever conceived on earth.

They want to do things themselves. They want to make their own contribution—even though small—to building neighbors.

They want to do this not only here at home, between neighbors around the corner; but they want to do it abroad, between neighbors who speak foreign languages.

Despite the cynics and the derogators and the pessimists, this great urge exists. It is the brightest of all stars at this Christmas season. It is the healthiest of all movements to win the peace and make democracy live.

* * *

A Columnist's Mail.

LOOKING through a columnist's mail—which is a pretty good cross section of America—I find all sorts of indications of this urge. Here is a random sample:

The International Friendship League of Boston loaded up three American Airlines planes with Christmas toys to the children of Europe, born during and after the war, most of whom have never seen toys. The League planned one plane, but the response was so generous that American Airlines donated three . . . Kellogg's Cornflakes is printing on their cereal boxes special postcards for Pen Pal Clubs to European and Latin-American children. Much more lucrative from a profit viewpoint, are toy paper autos formerly printed on cereal boxes. But foregoing this, Kelloggs have gone to much trouble and expense to set up a central office for the exchange of Pen Pal letters . . . Clayton, N. Y., invited neighboring Canadians to join them in honoring a great neighbor—Canada. . . . Bakersfield, Calif., Jr. Red Cross plans a "We Are a Family" festival to emphasize neighborliness and will send 1,000 gift boxes abroad.

Jacksonville, Ala., State Teachers College has taken in six French students . . . Southwest Texas State Teachers College, San Marcos, Texas, has "adopted" a German college . . . Los Angeles high school adopted Nikaia high school in one of the poorest cities of Greece. . . . The town of Worthington, Minn., adopted the town of Crailsheim, Germany . . . Morganville, Kans., a town of only 300, staged a pageant to help the French town of Feves, population 2,000 . . . Glen Cove, N. Y., bought a refrigerator and linen for the hospital at Pontecorvo, Italy . . . Rockland County, N. Y., boy scouts sent 150 pounds of vitamins to Echternach hospital, Luxembourg.

Students Help Students.

RICHMOND, VA., Professional Institute published a special edition of the school paper in French and circulated it to French schools and colleges . . . The Daily Orange of Syracuse university, Syracuse, N. Y., is doing the same . . . Augustina college, Sioux Falls, S. D., is bringing in foreign students on scholarships. . . . Students at Bowdoin, Stanford, Emory university, Georgia, have been pioneers in this field. . . . On an even larger scale, Rotary International uses a fund of $2,000,000 to send foreign students to American colleges, and American students to European colleges. The fund is dedicated to the founder of Rotary, the late Paul P. Harris . . . The city of New Orleans adopted the city of Orleans, France . . . Columbia, S. C., adopted Berck-sur-Mer, France . . . Al Tisch, a Lakewood, N. J., hotel owner, spearheaded a campaign for "toys for tots around the world."

This is just a small cross section of a columnist's mail. The list of people, clubs and organizations who want to help other people is so long that it would take columns and columns to print.

But the important thing to remember is that millions of people in this country are working hard at the job of winning the peace and making democracy live.

And from this writer's own observations in Europe, plus the Gratitude Train which the people of France are sending us, this yearning for peace and friendship is very much reciprocated.

It is the most lustrous light on the horizon of our Christmas season.

Washington Calling

South Slowly Changing

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—In the charming old city of Savannah, Ga., the southern governors have been meeting. They stand embattled, in a state of siege, against the irresistible tide of change.

That is the real meaning of the concessions they have made to the shifting trend of opinion.

If the step they took the other day had been made 10 years ago or even five years ago, and voluntarily, it would have been hailed as a major social advance.

What the southern governors' conference agreed to was a regional compact under which the southern states will finance higher education for Negroes.

The largest item approved was $600,000 to be contributed to Meharry medical school for Negroes at Nashville, Tenn. The conference also recommended $355,000 for regional veterinary schools at the University of Georgia, Oklahoma A. & M. and Tuskeegee Institute for Negroes.

The United States Supreme Court has held that the states must offer equal educational opportunities to Negroes when they ask for such opportunity. Obviously, each state cannot afford to set up a separate Negro medical school or a separate Negro engineering school. The regional school to be attended by Negroes from all over the South is a workable compromise.

The southern answer to federal legislation is always: You must let us do these things in our own way since you cannot understand our problem. But change seems to come only when there is the kind of pressure the Supreme Court has applied.

For the South this matter of timing is crucial. Southern states are at present on a kind of divide between the past and future. Great changes have occurred and even greater changes are about to occur.

Most significant of all is the shift in population that is taking place. During the war the southern states barely held their own, population wise, while other regions were showing extraordinary gains. Reports indicate that the outward movement is continuing particularly among Negroes who are migrating to the North to join friends and relatives.

* * *

THE mechanical cotton picker, which is beginning to come into its own since the war, will displace thousands of field hands. They are not likely to remain in the South. Or only those with the least initiative and ambition will stay behind.

A region cannot grow and develop without human resources. One of the reasons for the remarkable development on the West Coast, where population gains of 40 per cent and more have been recorded, is the high calibre of the new immigrants settling there.

Among them are many Negroes who have gone into areas where before the war they were scarcely represented at all. In general, this revolutionary population change seems to be working out satisfactorily in spite of the lack of housing and the resultant crowding.

So long as people can move about freely in this country they will go, no matter what their color or creed, where there is opportunity and a chance for decent treatment.

The explanation of the shift of peoples that is taking place is as simple as that.

It is here that the matter of timing comes in. This is a late date to be complying with the Supreme Court ruling. The time now is to come forward with a broad proposal covering the whole civil-rights issue; a proposal that would be within the framework of the southern way of life.

In the meeting at Savannah 15 southern states also agreed to establish a southern foundation to inform the nation "correctly" about the South. That could be very useful if the foundation were really to get beneath the charm of the magnolias and the moonlight to talk about the facts of life.

Christmas Hymn

—By ANNE CAMPBELL

Baby Jesus, child of wonder,
Lying on the fragrant hay,
Touch all men who scheme and plunder
With Your healing hand today.
Fling the message You brought us
Over the dissenting seas.
Make the lessons You have taught us
Stronger than disharmonies.

Baby Jesus, child of wonder,
Dreaming in the perfumed mow,
Break the hateful bonds asunder
That alarm the nations now.
With Your own sublime perfection,
With Your constant sympathy,
Give an aching world protection;
Turn us from futility.

Baby Jesus, child of wonder,
In the manger slumbering,
To be human is no blunder.
Help our earth-bound souls to wing
Closer to Your own desiring.
May the Christmas bells proclaim:
Peace will come when men, aspiring,
Vow to do right in Your name!

TODAY IN HISTORY

All church property confiscated in England during the Reformation (1534-1553) was formally recovered on December 24, 1554.

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

This will be remembered as the Christmas when national income was so high people couldn't afford to buy as they did when they got less money.

* * *

But any woman who squawks to Santa if she didn't get sables will receive a form letter reading "Tell me how I could do it and feed reindeers on $37 hay?"

* * *

But generally speaking we're warm and snug on this Christmas day . . . poultry in the pantry, pumpkins in the grand jury room.

* * *

And we have a whole week now to exchange with the merchants the gifts we exchanged with each other . . . Then New Year's eve, $18 cover charges and bankruptcy.

* * *

Merchants will have their Christmas reports ready in a few days . . . the clergy can report now that it wasn't all it should be.

* * *

That's a standing report.

That Shining Vision

By ELSIE ROBINSON

IT IS so easy to think of wise men and myrrh on Christmas day . . . of blazing stars and angels singing.

But have you ever thought of the other side of the story, the shabby side and what it meant and still means to you and me?

For Bethlehem was not all filled with rejoicing that night. Only the rich were able to rejoice. Only the rich were able to pay the heavy taxes.

And so out on the hills many poor men lay, shepherds watching their flocks, tired and sleepy and cold. Workers like you and me, dressed in their shabby rags and skins, soiled by their trade, crouching by their niggardly fires.

The hills are bare and comfortless at midnight. Haven't you sat after many a long and hard day year upon year, toil upon toil? So must those shepherds have sat at their toil, leaning on their staffs.

Others were a little luckier. Down in the streets of Bethlehem the wealthy were able to find ease. They had come, as was their custom, to pay the tax to Rome.

But up on the hills the shepherds watched and shivered and burnt their bitter fires and drank their wine as bitter as their thoughts.

But suddenly the heavens opened! And the glory of the Lord shone around them! Then their fear-filled eyes—eyes that had known nothing but toiling days and hopeless nights—beheld the wonder. The midnight darkness quivered and the radiant host of God's own angels sang "Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace and good will to men."

Not to the rich, not to the crafty and powerful, but to the workers who labored through the night came first the message of freeing peace and friendliness to men. Not to the rich who lay snugly asleep, not to the crafty and powerful, but to the workers came the message of peace and healing kindliness.

And so I think that though today we see only the shadow and the cold, there soon may break across our darkened skies a shining vision of a world set free.

I hope so, my dear. I hope the angels sing for every one of you this Christmas eve and on and on this Christmas day.

High Turkey Prices Cut Holiday Buying

(By Associated Press)

Christmas turkey prices reached an all-time peak in most sections of the nation this year.

The retail price of oven-sized gobblers (under 18 pounds) climbed about four cents a pound since the high Thanksgiving day level. And now even the highly-competitive chain stores are asking an average of around 80 cents a pound.

One chain at Jacksonville, Fla., is selling small turkeys at 89 cents. Some independents and so-called deluxe stores across the country have price tags marked in the mid-nineties.

Larger tom turkeys of 18 pounds and over usually cost about 10 cents a pound less than family-size birds.

Small choice holiday turkeys were expected to be mighty scarce this week because the turkey crop was the smallest in 10 years and because feed costs were high during the early breeding months. Also, many turkey farmers later withdrew a substantial number of the young market hens and toms for breeding purposes when feed prices declined steeply late this year and turkey prices soared.

However, market circles believe the high prices this week will encounter enough consumer resistance to keep the supply adequate for those housewives who are determined to have their traditional holiday turkey regardless.

Shoppers who balk at the record prices will find meat at just about last week's levels, with hams a few pennies cheaper and roasting chickens and geese in adequate supply in most areas.

Sweet potatoes, string beans, California carrots, and yellow turnips are some of the week's most abundant vegetables, and consequently are good buys.

Celery is plentiful and high in quality, and average about 19 cents a stalk in cities distant from the growing areas.

Oranges are so abundant at attractive prices that retailers even in remote sections are featuring them as holiday fare.

"The days are past when many youngsters far away from California and Florida saw oranges only once a year—in their Christmas stockings," said one large produce buyer. "Oranges are going to be a top-flight food value all winter."

As for the traditional desert items on the Christmas table, plum pudding is plentiful everywhere at lower prices than last year. It averages around 39 cents a pound in most cities. Mince meat for pies runs about 15 to 19 cents a pound.

Theft Suspects Put Under Bond

ASHLAND — Two suspects, charged with grand larceny, pleaded not guilty Wednesday at a hearing before Harry Pifer, justice of the peace in Montgomery township in Ashland county. They were bound over for grand jury action and detained under $500 bonds.

They are Paul Conley, 25, of Shelby, and Donald Jones, 18, of Greenwich, who were arrested Tuesday by Sheriff H. R. Myers in connection with the theft of two truckloads of scrap iron from the farm of Merle Swope, north of Savannah.

Mansfielder Buys Hotel

Harry A. Mercer, of the Mercer Market, recently purchased and is now operating the Colonial hotel on U. S. Route 250 in Norwalk.

Mercer said that he expects to partly remodel the 45-room hotel, which he and his wife are operating, some time after the first of the year.

Mercer purchased the hotel, one of two in Norwalk, from Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hammon of Norwalk.

He said that he plans to continue operating his market here. Carl Schmahl, who has worked in the market for nearly two years is managing the business in Mercer's absence.

Mercer said that he is maintaining his home here at 408 Edgewood road and has no immediate plans for moving to Norwalk permanently.

CHILD SMOTHERS

MIDDLETOWN — (AP) — Two-month-old Sharon Lee Sperry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Sperry, was found suffocated in her crib yesterday. Dr. Thomas Wenzel, deputy Butler county coroner, returning a verdict of accidental death, said the child's face was buried in her pillow when the parents awakened during the early morning hours.

Damage Suit Filed

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—Mrs. Hazel Swain, Manchester, O., sued the Mississippi Valley Barge Line company for $75,000 yesterday in federal court. She charged the company with negligence in the drowning of her seaman husband, Otho, last January in the Ohio river.

Society Reporters Find Time To Send Annual Letters To Old Saint Nick

Dear Santa:

As you know from other years, I'm certainly not a girl who has everything. In fact, I'm not even one of those Christmas problem women.

I could be happy if you'd send me a bunch of single earrings to replace the odd ones I leave in telephone booths. Then there's stockings, that would match some good singles I save.

If I've been good—and let's don't go into that too deeply, it's only because I've been so busy I haven't had time to be anything else. But really, Santa, it's my generous family who deserve all the credit, so please bring them all the nice things you can spare.

As for myself, I guess I need an electric hair-dryer above all else. Sure, I know I go to the hairdressers to have my hair done, but you miss the point. If I get a hair-dryer, I can dry dishes faster, I can defrost the windows and refrigerator; blow dust out of the radio; thaw frozen foods when I dash home to get that late meal; blow foam off the beer; warm cold feet and fill air cushions.

You probably will wonder, Santa, when you stop to think about it, how you ever managed without a hair-dryer. You could fluff your beard and dry your reindeer after their bath.

There's other little items like a GOLD BRACELET and a mink coat, but I know times are tough all over, so just keep me in mind, Santa, and maybe next year I could take a slow boat to China. Huh?

Affectionately,
OLIVE.

Dear Santa:

I know it's drawing close to the time for your annual visit and I haven't dropped my letter to you in the mail yet, but I hope you will get it in time to add my list.

Honest, Santa, I'm not going to ask for much this year. All I want is a portable typewriter, a rhinestone neckless and maybe a new outfit or two.

Now, I suppose I could get along without a couple outfits, but believe me they would be helpful to have and the rhinestone necklace is strictly a luxury, but what a nice luxury!

Ah, but, the typewriter is essential. In the evenings, when everything is quiet and peaceful, it's so easy to get into the "swing" of writing. It is so easy to pour your heart out to a typewriter that won't talk back, you can just go on and on and when you're finished, think how much better you feel.

Really, I don't think you would want anyone to feel bad when they could get something off their mind just because of a little old typewriter.

Anyway, if you don't happen to have a new one in your pack, I'd be happy to have an old one just so long as it will type.

Sincerely,
ANN

P. S.—Oh, yes, Santa, I think I've been a good girl this year.

Dear Santa:

I've been a good girl all my life and I've never asked for much—so I'm not going to change my way of living now. All I want is a little bit.

Just a little bit of mink, a little bit of a Cadillac and a little bit of diamonds, emeralds and rubies. I know you don't like greedy people, so just one of each will do, Santa dear.

And I don't want much in a boyfriend. Just someone to take me to dinner every night, instead of only two or three times a week. You know eating can be awfully hard on a working girl's purse. You're such an understanding fellah, Santa.

Of course a good healthy raise could help alleviate many of my financial difficulties. Something like $50 or $60 a week more would just about do the trick.

And while I'm asking, how about tossing in an apartment? That's something I've been seeking, but it always seems to elude my grasp.

In fact almost everything I have ever set my heart on seems to have an illusive way of avoiding me. So just this once, Santa won't you answer my innocent little plea?

I'm sure you have a strong back and a generous heart, so I'll be expecting to see you slip down the chimney Christmas Eve with my small requests.

But just in case you can't find those little tid bits, I'll take a couple pair of hose to solace my grief.

Lots of love,
Marian

MERRY CHRISTMAS TO YOU ALL!

MISS DOROTHY WEAVER TO BE WED ON JAN. 30

Announcement Made of Coming Marriage of Miss Weaver to Deane Wallace.

A BRIDAL SHOWER was given Thursday evening in honor of Miss Marcella Grau, bride-elect, by Miss Dorothy Weaver, 587 Park avenue west. Miss Grau will become the bride of George Frank on Jan. 23. The gifts were arranged, as the guests arrived, to complete the table setting decorated with a pink and green silk parasol.

The surprise of the evening was disclosed when Miss Grau opened the last package, which contained the announcement of the approaching marriage of the hostess, Miss Weaver, to Deane L. Wallace, of Woodstock, Ohio. Within a gold-trimmed frame was a picture of Miss Weaver and Mr. Wallace, under which was written in gold letters, "Wedding bells for Dorothy and Deane, the thirtieth day of January, nineteen hundred and forty-nine."

The guests learned that Miss Weaver has chosen her sister, Miss Janet Weaver, as junior maid of honor, her only attendant. Roger Wallace will be best man for his brother. Ushers will be David Weaver, brother of the bride-elect, and Paul Mechling, brother-in-law of Mr. Wallace. The open church ceremony will be held at St. Matthew's Lutheran church, with Rev. Charles Sheriff officiating.

A centerpiece of sweet peas carried the pink and green color scheme to the refreshment table, where the guests were seated by place cards tied with pink and green ribbons upon which were printed "Marcella and George and Dorothy and Deane."

Out of town guests were Mrs. Lawrence Wallace, Woodstock, Ohio; Mrs. Paul Mechling, Versailles, Ohio; Mrs. Roger Wallace, St. Paris, Ohio; Miss Nancee Isler, Wooster, O., and Miss Verne Isler, Wooster, O., and Miss Verna Beth Graham, Morgantown, W. Va.

C. L. of C. Elects New Officers

Mrs. John Schweitzer was elected president of the Catholic Ladies of Columbus at their annual meeting held at the K. of C. home. Assisting her for the coming year will be Mrs. Louis Murphy, vice-president; Mrs. James Herlihy, treasurer; Mrs. Michael Vogel, financial secretary; Mrs. Joseph A. Pilot, recording secretary; Mrs. Vincent Montgomery, monitor; Mrs. Herbert Dillon, inner guard; Mrs. Thomas Dillon, three-year trustee; Mrs. R. C. Straub, two-year trustee; and Mrs. Joseph Seibert, one-year trustee.

The group was served at dinner, after which a Christmas party was held. Forty-five were in attendance and seated at a U-shaped table which was decorated with holiday greens. At each place were favors of poinsettias, holding a lighted taper.

Mrs. R. C. Straub and Mrs. Thomas Dillon were in charge of arrangements. An exchange of gifts was held following the dinner.

Mrs. John Schweitzer presided for the brief business session. Members will meet for a business session and installation of officers on Jan. 18 at the K. of C. home.

Rev. Schneider
The birth of Jesus is the center of human history. It is the dawn of a new day, the sunrise of freedom, heaven's answer to man's need, God's demonstration of His love for us. The world rejected God's gift of His own Son, but wherever any man receives Him by faith there the peace of God has come to stay. If you have left Christ out of your Christmas, you have missed the whole point.

Peace On Earth to You and All Men of Good Will

You know that it's Christmas time here in Home Town. Even if there were no gifts advertised in the papers and displayed in store windows, even if there were no gaily-lit trees and beribboned wreaths, you would still see far more substantial proof that the day of giving gladly and receiving gratefully was drawing near.

You would see the smiling faces of men and women whose good will you have earned through the years and to whom you have offered the full measure of your own good will which they richly deserve. Day in, day out, you meet these friends on the streets and in the stores of Home Town and you know that their good will and friendship are not restricted to Yuletide. The Peace that blesses men and women of good will shines in their faces always but now it shines with a brilliance that is as beautiful as it is dazzling.

The Christmas spirit which guides their daily actions throughout the year is now at its glorious height because to them Christmas signifies more than a day of gift-giving and gift-receiving. True, this tradition is important, but is just a manifestation of the Peace and Good Fellowship which the Prince of Peace comes to earth to bring into the hearts of all mankind.

All Mankind! Here in America, we strive daily through the exercise of our Democratic privileges, to insure for all men the way of life which God intended all men to possess.

Here in America, your good friends, your neighbors, regardless of religious and political affiliations, can enjoy their rights to Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness.

And today, these good, God-fearing people pray with renewed fervor to the Prince of Peace. In their prayers, they devoutly ask Him, the Giver of all Good and Blessing, to bestow on all mankind the wisdom to live and let live, to do unto others as they would have done unto themselves. They pray for Peace.

Peace is the result of what is in a man's heart and mind.

It's thinking and doing honestly.

It's thinking and acting without prejudice and injustice.

It's being American.

Peace is the product of a man's heart. And war is the product of his heart, too. It is born of pettiness, greed, prejudice and the kindred diseases which grow slowly but consistently until they have eaten away and destroyed man's sense of justice and fair play.

So today and every day you pray that good will will be born into the hearts of all men the world over. Let all mankind share the blessing of Peace! This is your Prayer for the World. You say it devoutly, unceasingly, and you should, because no prayer of mortal man could be more beautiful and deserving of being heard.

We wish you a Joyous Christmas and a Blessed New Year, and we know that our wish will come true.

It will come true because there will be Peace and Happiness now and always for you and for all men of Good Will.

Jewish Congregations Mark Festival of Lights

Chanuko, or the Festival of Lights, will be observed beginning Sunday, with special services by Mansfield's two Jewish congregations, Temple Emanuel and the B'nai Jacob synagogue.

The Chanuko observance continues for eight days.

Both congregations will hold parties for the children Sunday afternoon. At the B'nai Jacob synagogue, there will be a program of special entertainment and refreshments. Parents as well as their children will be welcomed to the party.

At the Temple Emanuel a "world's fair" has been planned for the children under the direction of the Sunday school officers. Children will be given paper money and allowed to buy gifts at the various booths erected for the occasion. There will be games.

Sunday night at the Temple, Rabbi Eugene Lipman will conduct services. Rabbi Lipman will bring Mrs. Lipman and his family here for the celebration.

MAJOR HOLIDAY

Chanuko is an important holiday in the Jewish calendar. It commemorates the time, according to Rabbi Moshe Goldblum of the B'nai Jacob congregation, when Judah Maccabee, with a small band of Jewish soldiers drove the great Syrian army out of Palestine. The Syrians who controlled Palestine in 167 B. C., wanted to force the Jewish people to become Greeks. Refusing to give up their belief, they arose in revolt under the leadership of Judah and were able to regain their independence.

The first act as a free nation was to rededicate their Temple and cleanse it of all the idolatrous worship which had gone on for the past few years. This rededication is the meaning of the Hebrew word, Chanuko."

"Tradition tells us that only one cruze of oil could be found in the Temple that had not been defiled by the Greeks," Rabbi Goldblum explained." This cruze of oil, through a miracle, burned for eight days. It is for this reason that Chanuko is celebrated for the eight-day period."

City Ranks Second In Meter Funds

Only Canton's Income Greater

The average income per parking meter in Mansfield in 1947 was greater than in any other city except Canton, a survey by the Ohio Chamber of Commerce showed today.

The 472 meters in operation then collected an average of $102.84. Only Canton's annual average collection of $107.95 exceeds the Mansfield average.

Acting Traffic Commissioner Robert Garver said the Mansfield's fine showing can be attributed to three factors:

1. All of the city's meters are concentrated in the business district, which means that few of the meters ever are idle.

2. The large turnover of cars in Mansfield boosted the figure, he said, explaining that since Mansfield is a shopping district for a large area the number of cars occupying a given space during the day is great.

He said many persons, finding a meter with a few minutes left, put a nickel in the machine rather than hunt for pennies. The meter often collects, therefore, more than five cents for each hour.

3. Strict enforcement by local traffic police in the form of tickets keeps the number of persons who "cheat" the meters to a minimum.

Although Mansfield ranks 17th in the state in population, its annual income from parking meters was the 11th highest in the state, totaling $48,540 in 1947.

Leading city in point of total money collected was Cleveland, followed by Columbus and Cincinnati.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY—

Rev. Samuel U. J. Peard, rector of the Grace Episcopal church, will be conducting Christmas eve services at his church tonight on his birthday. Rev. Peard is a native of Williamsport, Pa., and was educated at the University of Virginia and the seminary at Alexandria, Va. He served churches in Oklahoma from 1930 until 1944 when he came to Mansfield.

Rev. Peard

The Peard home at 31 Bowman street was decorated today with manger scenes, flowers, and a large Christmas tree.

Rev. Peard is married and the father of an eight-year-old son.

Tomorrow, Ralph H. Shaffer, manager of the Park theater, will combine celebration of his 39th birthday with the holiday festivities.

Shaffer was born and spent his early years in Pennsylvania. He came to Mansfield from Canton in 1938 when the Park theater opened. After spending four and a half years in the Army, he returned to Mansfield in 1946. Shaffer has been in the theater business since 1926.

He is a member of the Elks lodge and his hobbies are football and baseball.

Married and the father of one daughter, Shaffer lives at 207 West Park boulevard.

Mrs. Donald W. Dewald, 200 Park avenue west, has had to buy a double set of gifts for her husband, Dr. Dewald, Mansfield physician, since tomorrow he celebrates his birthday with the Christmas festivities.

Tomorrow, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Dewald of Crestline and Mrs. Dewald's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Iman, also of Crestline, will join the Dewalds and their young daughter for the double celebration.

ANONYMOUS SANTA—

A Mansfield resident, who refused to tell his name, knocked at the door of the Richland County Children's home Wednesday and handed $60 to Mrs. Laura Reece, matron. "He was the same man who last year came to the home and gave us $50. Neither time would he tell us his name, saying that it made no difference. He has certainly restored whatever faith we may have lost in human nature," Mrs. Reece said. The $60 will be added to the fund of $200 already given the home by the 40 et 8 club and will be a part of the city's Santa donations for the home's 55 children.

The 40 et 8 gift will be used by Mrs. Reece to buy gifts for the children. In addition, treats will be packaged tomorrow morning at the 40 et 8 club. The treats will include candy, oranges, apples, popcorn balls and peanuts. Tomorrow night members with Santa will appear at the home for their annual Christmas party.

OFF SCHEDULE—

In father's day the seed catalogs were a pretty good indication that spring was just around the corner. But times have changed. The colorful books full of tomatoes, cabbages, and zinnias already are arriving and winter just began three days ago. However, most of the 1949 seed books won't arrive until January, and about the time of the "January thaw" gardeners will begin planning their flower beds and bean patches.

GETS 'SUNSHINE BASKET'—Ruth Warner is given her "Sunshine Basket" by Santa Claus at General hospital. Distribution of the baskets was a part of the Christmas program of the Salvation Army. Ruth is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Warner, 1302 Springmill street. Baskets were given out to patients at General, Madison and People's hospitals, the TB sanatorium and the Richland County Infirmary.

TREATS CHILDREN—Emil Zimmerman, for the fifth consecutive year, gives out candy to the children in the neighborhood of his store, corner West Fourth and Willow streets. Last night, 115 boxes of candy were distributed by Santa to as many children in the neighborhood.

Students To Be Feted

City Churches Plan Parties Next Week

College students home for the holidays will be honored by two Mansfield churches with special dinners and programs.

Vacationing students at the Grace-Gospel church will be entertained at the annual banquet arranged by the Young People's society at the Sky Club next Tuesday night. About 150 are expected for the dinner and program.

Those in charge include Miss Dixie Scoles, president of the society, Miss Phyllis Stahl, Donald McFarland and Edward Schmidt.

The party at the Park Avenue Baptist church Monday night will honor the 20 from that church who attend colleges. It will be a covered dish supper in the church parlors. Both the supper and the program will be informal and parents of the students have been asked to join the group.

May Clay will sing several solos, Miss Julia Colby will play piano solos and George Lake will lead in carol singing.

Adult members in charge are: Mrs. Perry Bush, Mrs. Harold Roberts and Mrs. W. M. Taylor.

Mrs. Flory Quits County Relief Post

Resignation of Mrs. Winona Flory, of 173 Bartley avenue, as investigator for the Richland county relief administration, has been accepted by the county commissioners, a journal entry today showed.

The resignation is effective Dec. 31. Mrs. Flory was employed by the relief office for two years.

218 Needy Families Get Holiday Baskets

Christmas will be a more bountiful day for at least 218 families in Mansfield and vicinity because of the annual Yuletide basket program of the Salvation Army and the Volunteers of America.

Yesterday and today have been busy days for Maj. William J. Jones of the Salvation Army and Lt. Maj. R. L. Gutterman of the Volunteers. With their corps of workers, they have packed baskets, packaged candy and in other ways arranged for Christmas cheer for families whose homes would otherwise be cheerless.

At the Volunteers, 130 baskets were filled yesterday with items of food, which included such staples as cans of corn, pork and beans, applesauce, peas, and beets, and a peck of potatoes, pancake flour, macaroni, coffee, flour, tomatoes, oranges, a one-pound box of candy, bread and five pounds of ham.

Eighty-eight baskets were to be distributed at 10 a. m. today from the Salvation Army headquarters, South Main street. Into each basket went a chicken, potatoes, celery, cans of peas, corn, tomatoes and beans, canned milk, jello, sugar, margarine, can of fruit, bread and a box of cookies. Extra canned goods were divided among the baskets.

In addition, 300 pounds of candy were packaged into half-pound packages and one put into each basket.

Tonight, toys will be given to the children at the Salvation Army. At the Friendly House, Russell and Mary Gimbel are expected to make their annual trip in the Friendly House truck, delivering toys to the children.

Laff-A-Day . . . .

"My wife has a difficult part in their social club play—she doesn't say a word."

Fires Cause Slight Loss

Minor fire damage to a market on Ashland road and to a house roof in Lincoln Heights was reported by firemen today.

At 9:44 p. m. yesterday, Central and No. 4 station men went to the Estes fruit market near East Fourth street on Ashland road where an oil stove had set fire to a partition. Slight damage to the partition resulted, firemen said.

Sparks from a chimney which set fire to the roof on the home of Mrs. Esther Keith, Michigan avenue and Ashland road, at 12:50 a. m. today brought No. 4 men again. Firemen said a small hole in the roof was the only damage.

Firm Bonuses Total $16,000

Twenty-five employes of the Mansfield Brass and Aluminum corporation and 35 employes of the company's plant in New Washington received Christmas bonuses totaling $16,000 this morning.

The annual bonus was distributed to all employes on the payroll of the company. The bonus was divided among employes according to the number of hours they had worked during the past year.

Both plants closed at noon today to give their employes an extra half-day holiday.

Girl Scouts Hold Party For Mothers

Mrs. H. H. Schettler, 139 Glenwood boulevard, entertained members of Girl Scout Troop 48 at a Christmas party at her home Wednesday. Mothers of troop members were guests.

The Girl Scouts presented a Christmas program which included Christmas carols in pantomime and the playing of a Christmas record, "The Tiniest Angel." A gift exchange was held following the program.

Mrs. Schettler served sandwiches, Christmas cakes, and punch.

Fire Could Ruin Holiday, Chief Says

Fire Chief L. J. Steele reminded Mansfielders to be careful around their Christmas trees tonight and tomorrow.

He warned them not to plug the Christmas light outlet near the tree, because a spark could jump from the socket while the connection was being made and start a fire.

"I want to thank the public and the business men for their cooperation with my campaign against pre-Christmas fire," he added.

Enlistees Must Sign Disavowal

Other Services To Follow Suit

WASHINGTON—(INS)—The army disclosed today that it has ordered all new volunteers to sign non-communist affidavits.

At the same time, the army issued new and stringent regulations which:

1. Ban virtually all present and former communists and fellow-travelers from enlisting or accepting officer appointments in any component of its service.

2. Prescribe iron-clad procedures for discharging subversive personnel already in the service.

The army said that "in no case, will any person who admits, or whose available records show, that he was at any time engaged in disloyal or subversive activities be appointed or enlisted in any component of the army without the specific approval of the department of the army."

The service further ruled that "membership in, affiliation or sympathetic association with" any of the groups designated by Attorney General Clark as "totalitarian, communist or subversive," constitute grounds for rejection or discharge.

The non-communist affidavits must be signed by all applicants for commissions or enlisted status in the army or its reserve.

ON ALL APPLICATIONS

The army ordered that the following statement be included on enlistment applications:

"I certify that I (have) or (have never) engaged in disloyal or subversive activities."

Every applicant is required to cross out one of the two verbs, initial the action and swear to the accuracy of his over-all application.

It is understood that the other services and the National Guard are preparing to require similar affidavits.

Officials said that the army's new anti-communist regulations are not applicable to draftees. A spokesman asserted that they are covered under other loyalty regulations, although there is no ban on the induction of communists in the draft law.

Ontario Takes Big County Cage Lead

Blue Jay 5 Defeated By 37-33 Tally

By CHARLEY STINE

ONTARIO—Ontario's hard-driving basketball team took an almost insurmountable lead in the Richland county league race by outlasting Bellville, 37-33, here last night.

Led by Howard Sunnucks, the Warriors were almost ferocious on the rebounds as they piled up a 14-point lead, then hung on through the final period.

It was Ontario's dead-eye foul shooting which made the difference in the scoring column. The Warriors made 15 of 23 free throws while Bellville was converting on 13 of 25, not a bad percentage either.

SUNNUCKS HELD DOWN

Sunnucks, the league's leading scorer, was held to two field goals, but cashed in on nine of 12 foul shots.

The victory was Ontario's sixth straight in the loop and gave it a full two-game lead over both Bellville and Lexington. With only eight games remaining and many of those against weak opposition, Ontario's lead looks to be too much to overcome.

Questioned last week, Ontario Coach Dick Casad would not comment on this week's games but said, "If we get by them this time they'll never catch us."

TAKE BIG LEAD

The Warriors converted their fire-wagon style into a 7-4 first quarter and 18-8 half-time advantage. Then in the third period they added three more points before Bellville began to roll. During the second half of the period, the Blue Jays closed the gap from 23-9 to 26-21, as their fast passing attack began to click.

The fourth quarter was a see-saw affair. Bellville's passing was clicking by this time but the rebound work of the Warriors gave them possession of the ball enough to hang on.

A new electric scoreboard was presented to the school by the Springfield township booster club before the game. It responded with two victories as the reserves also won by a 35-17 score.

Madison District Champs Of 1948 to Play Varsity

Madison's district champions of last year will square off against the 1948-49 varsity in an Alumni game scheduled for next Thursday night in the Madison high gym.

The Alumni squad will be basically the Frankie Mitsch's team of the National City league but will have for that one game the complete instead of partial lineup of last year.

At forwards will be Eldon Pritchard and Herb Eldridge. Bob Wilson will be at center, with Dick Poth and Dick Ernsberger at guards. Alex Bosko, the No. 6 man of the "champs" will also play along with, players of other years which will include Joe Miller, Glenn Tschantz, Leo Eldridge, Doc Poston and Joe Radio.

The game will be the first in two weeks and the last of the year for Coach Blaine Dowler's Rams. Madison has won three of four games so far and will make it's next start Jan. 4 at Willard.

The Johnny Appleseed Junior high team will meet the Madison reserves in the preliminary.

Brinkerhoff Wins Elementary Court Tournament Title

Brinkerhoff replaced Hedges as the elementary tournament champion by defeating the defending champions, 13-10, on the YMCA court.

Larry Zartman, who starred last summer in the Hot Stove elementary baseball league, was the tops again as he put six points through the nets.

Some 75 fans saw Brinkerhoff come from behind late in the third quarter and then hang on in the final minutes after Zartman fouled out. The winners were never behind at the quarter periods.

Brandon of Hedges starred in floor play but scored only one point.

Sport Center Goes Into 'A' Loop Lead

Ohio Sport Center's "fire wagon" ran over and around Martin Hardware last night to win the City A league feature, 54-38, and take over undisputed possession of first place.

Led by its speedy ex-county players, Jack Hammett and Ed Vanderbilt, Sport Center jumped into a commanding lead early and piled it up as the game wore on. Hammett popped in 16 points and Vanderbilt 15.

Sport Center and Martin's had been tied for the A league lead but last night's result boosted Sport Center into the van with five victories against one defeat.

DROP TO SECOND

Martin's dropped into a tie with Rogers' Jewelry for second place as Rogers' won 35-27 over Yuncker Sports. The Jewelers led 16-15 at half-time and poured on the coal in the second half despite the fact that they were playing without their scoring ace, Dick Casad.

Richland Beverage beat Penn Auto, 48-38, in the other game.

Connie Picks Clevelanders To Win Again

PHILADELPHIA — (UP) — Connie Mack, the owner-manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, celebrated his 86th birthday yesterday by picking the Cleveland Indians to repeat as American league pennant winners.

"I can't see anything but the Indians," Mr. Baseball said, gazing into the improvised crystal ball photographers planted on his ball park office desk.

"Lou Boudreau and his gang have the best catcher in baseball, four great pitchers, an infield that can't be beat, and an outfield that's one of the best I've ever seen," he said. "That includes good reserve players too, a vital factor for a winner these days."

He added that his fourth-place A's will be up in the "scramble" for second position.

Mack vowed again that he "has no intentions whatever of retiring."

Schroeder on Top

NEW ORLEANS —(UP)— Defending Champion Ted Schroeder of La Crescenta, Calif., who helped win the United States its third straight Davis cup in 1948, was top-seeded today for the annual Sugar Bowl invitational tennis tournament which opens Dec. 28.

Mansfielders Get Awards at Eagle School

ASHLAND — Four Mansfielders have received football awards for their participation in intercollegiate sports with the Ashland college football team this fall.

Three of those awards were for varsity playing while the fourth was a special award to Earl Garnes. Garnes, a senior this year at Ashland served in an assistant coaching capacity after playing three years of varsity ball with the Eagles.

The other three awards went to Alex Demyan and Russ Cooke for second year participation and Dominic Musille for first year of varsity playing.

COOKE RECOVERING

Cooke, a former New London high school center, is now recovering from a vertebrae injury received in the Eagles' final game of the season against Hiram. Demyan was a first string tackle this year and Dominic saw plenty of action running from a fullback slot.

All four boys were responsible for the fact that Ashland finished with its best season in the Hilltop athletic history. The Eagles won six games while losing one to undefeated Heidelberg and tieing two.

Two Mansfielders also have received baseball letters for varsity participation last spring.

The first year awards went to Bob Nikolaus and Joe Miller.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.
